

MAXIMUM GERMAN TARIFF SCHEDULE

Is Threatened if United States
Holds Out.

Fatherland Insists That Reciprocal
Concessions Be Made by This Government.

STATE DEPARTMENT MOVES.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 2.—Unless congress at its next session makes it possible for the president to direct that German goods imported into this country be given privileged treatment by customs inspectors, there will be a tariff war between the United States and Germany, the serious consequences of which cannot now be certainly forecasted.

Officials of the state department regard the present tariff situation with Germany as most serious and declare that they have been reliably informed by representatives of the Berlin government that if the congress persists in its refusal to grant reciprocal tariff privileges to Germany the latter will insist on the payment by United States exporters of the maximum German tariff schedules.

Because Germany was satisfied of the honest intentions of the executive branch of the United States government, it extended for a year from last March the "favored nation" tariff treatment of the United States. This was with the definite understanding between the Berlin foreign office and the state department that the congress of the United States would be importuned by the president to pass legislation permitting the executive to grant the reciprocal tariff demands of Germany. Congress adjourned without any definite action being taken on this highly important matter and the German government is displaying impatience.

The serious consequences of a tariff war between the United States and Germany, it is declared at the state department, are not wholly understood in this country. The loss to American exporters sending goods to Germany would amount to millions of dollars a year. It is frankly admitted at the state department that the German government is in a much better position to carry on such a fight than the United States.

Stated for Gen. Smith's Place.
Washington, Aug. 2.—Judge Jas. F. Tracy, of the Philippine supreme court, is expected to succeed Gen. James F. Smith as vice governor general of the Philippines when the latter assumes the governor generalship in September, according to advices from Manila.

No confirmation of the report that Judge Tracy has been slated for the office can be had at the bureau of insular affairs.

MUTINEERS WIN.

Reported That They Have All But Two Islands.

Stockholm, Sweden, August 2.—The latest news received from Helsingfors says the mutineers have gained control of the whole Sveaborg fortress except two islands of Sandham and Harak, which are comprised in seven islands within the fortifications. The explosion of magazine on Ugusselmen Island killed 40 mutineers today. The loyal troops lost heavily during the fighting.

"The man who wins my admiration," said the serious girl, "must be one who can stand firm in his convictions in the face of ridicule, opposition and personal danger." "I see," said Miss Cayenne. "Your ideal is a baseball umpire."—Washington Star.

SYRIAN LEPER

ATTRACTS ATTENTION AT RAIL-ROAD STATION.

Put Off Train at Parkersburg and
Several Arrests Will Follow
As Result.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Aug. 2.—George Rossett the Syrian leper whose movements have been watched all over the country for the past few weeks, arrived in this city today at noon and his travels were suddenly brought to a halt when the B. & O. S. W. refused to allow him to ride on that division of the road. Rossett arrived on train No. 3, and no sooner was he off the train than the news of his arrival spread like wildfire. People by the thousands flocked to the depot, and police in large numbers were detailed to watch Rossett, who, when he found that he could get no farther, decided to make himself comfortable on the grass in the rear of the B. & O. depot.

Late this evening Recorder Leonard issued a warrant for three parties charging them with bringing the leper here. Those arrested were B. & O. Conductor E. V. Owens, Dr. B. F. Bohn, of Maryland, and D. W. Mohler, of the local yard office. All three were arrested and put up bond for their appearance at trial tomorrow morning.

Parkersburg people by no means kept their distance from the leper. They flocked to the depot by the thousands, and almost fought to get a sight of him. It was all the police could not keep them back.

At a late hour tonight the depot is one surging mass of people, and it is almost impossible to get near it. Several local newspaper men managed to get near the leper, and talked for quite a while with him. He told of all his plans and his difficulties in attempting to get to his destination.

Letter "C" Causes Trouble.

Muscogee, I. T., Aug. 2.—The board of geographical names in Washington is having its trouble at this time. R. P. Harrison, clerk of the United States court in this city, is in receipt of a letter from C. F. Sloan, secretary of the board, asking how the name Muscogee is spelled, in the original charter. A difference of opinion has arisen before the board, and Mr. Sloan desires to settle it.

Mr. Harrison looked up the matter and found that in the original charter the name was spelled with a K, and that letter was used on the sign of the depot, indicating that the first railroad to build through this city adopted that name. The post-office has also used the K, and in all the legal documents of the city the K is used. It is also used by all the business men and the people in general. At one time the C was used by the postoffice department, and many of the old government reports designate this point as "Muscogee."

Helen Gould to Aid Mrs. Sage.
New York, Aug. 2.—That Mrs. Russell Sage would distribute to charity in the near future $10,000,000 was the announcement today from a source seemingly authoritative.

It was stated that the financier's widow will give away this great sum as soon as her friend and co-worker in many benevolent enterprises, Miss Helen Gould, returns from Europe. Miss Gould has advised Mrs. Sage many times in matters of philanthropy, and the report that the two women will work hand in hand in putting the aged money lender's millions in the best practical use for the benefit of mankind is not surprising.

Body and Coffin Weigh 660 Pounds.
Anderson, Ind., Aug. 2.—Five thousand persons this afternoon witnessed the burial of Joseph Rodecamp, a farmer and the heaviest man in Madison county. Mr. Rodecamp weighed 460 pounds. The coffin was 3 feet wide, 28 inches deep, 7 feet long and weighed 200 pounds.

Ten pallbearers were required, and it took sixteen men to lower the coffin into the grave. No hearse would admit the coffin and it was hauled in a casket wagon. Mr. Rodecamp was 51 years old. He died from the effects of a carbuncle.

Skinning of a Cow Alive.

Joplin, Mo., Aug. 2.—With half the skin removed and the exposed flesh blistered by the blazing sun, a cow was found by Harry Meade and L. N. Threlkeld just outside the city limits. The owner was notified and he killed the unfortunate animal at once. Citizens of the town are greatly aroused over the discovery of the brutal crime and vigorous prosecution is promised if the perpetrator is located. It is supposed that some one with a grudge against the owner took this means of showing his feelings.

"GIVING THE LIE"

A Lively Custom That Has Come to Prevail in Certain Halls.

Not so many weeks ago many potent, wise and revered seigniors at Washington were yelling "Lie!" and "Liar!" until their throats were peeled and their collars wilted. Politicians are so polite. It seems as though they counted that day lost in which some eminent official or humble correspondent was not "denounced" as a "deliberate, unqualified, and malicious" liar. In fact no other kind is worth notice. And soon the "fall campaign" will be sizing, and the fall crop of "lies," "falsehoods," and "liars" will be gathered. Really, we have known many persons to forget things or give an inaccurate account of things. We did not call them "liars," qualified or unqualified. For one reason, they were not liars. Nobody "gets anything straight" entirely. Nobody can tell anything or remember anything without some percentage, negligible or not, of error. For another reason, are deliberately and unqualified whole skin. Of course, when we get an office, we shall yell "Liar" as loud as anybody else. It will be etiquette. "With the procession," Everybody's Magazine for August.

"That new farmhand of yours used to be a bookkeeper." "How do you know?" "Every time he stops for a minute he tries to put the pitchfork behind his ear."

They who are effervescent in meeting usually have nothing left in their bottles when they get to the thirty world.

SOME DARK STATISTICS

It is a Dangerous Thing to Be Alive in the United States.

The number of homicides and deaths by violence in the United States in 1905 was 9,212, as against 8,482 in 1904. Suicides, 9,082, as against 9,240 in 1904. Killed on steam railroads, in 1905, 3,142; injured 15,904. Killed on electric and elevated railroads, 464; injured, 2,622. These statistics collected by the Chicago Tribune, are unofficial, but perhaps they are none the less trustworthy on that account. We murder and manslaughter nine times as many as the Germans; four times as many as the English; Scotch and Welsh. America seems to be a little careless, to put it mildly. "With the procession," Everybody's Magazine for August.

"You have to refuse a good many girls jobs during the course of a day." "Yes," said the head of the firm. "And yet they always go out smiling. How do they manage it?" "I tell 'em we think it inadvisable to employ extraordinary beautiful girls."—Louisville Courier-Journal.
